British Protection to the Pope—A Letter from Mr. Gladstone—The President's Message in England—France Accepts a Conference of the Powers—Victor Emmanuel's Speech—Spain and the Duke of Aosta.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—Mr. GLADSTONE has written a letter, dated Nov. 30, to Mr. EDMUND DEASE, M. P. for Queen's County, Ireland, acknowledging the receipt of a petition praying for the intervention of England in behalf of the temporal authority of the Pope. Mr. GLADSTONE says Her Majesty's Government has not interfered with any of the changes in Rome since the election of PIUS IX., but it feels bound to make, and has made, provision for affording protection to the Pontiff. In the meantime Italy explicitly engages to protect the Pope's freedom and maintain his dignity.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

The London Times, this morning, has an editorial article on the recent Message of President GRANT. It believes that certain recommendations made in that Message will fall still-born, like many of those of Gen. GRANT's predecessors. The document marks another stage of the President's downward career, and teaches how far the highest authorities will go, when the balance of parties is unstable.

FRANCE ACCEPTS A CONFERENCE.

The French acceptance of the conference for the settlement of the Eastern question, is unconditional.

GERMAN UNITY.

BISMARCK considers that the delay in voting for the new Constitution is working mischief.

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—It is said that Count VON BISMARCK will treat the acceptance or the rejection of the South German treaties as a Cabinet question.

ITALIAN POLITICS.

FLORENCE, Dec. 7.—The royal speech at the opening of Parliament is well received. Signor BRANCHERI has been elected President of the Lower Chamber.

THE FUTURE SPANISH KING.

The Duke of AOSTA will set out for Spain about New-Year's. The deputation from Spain to every where received with the warmest expressions of welcome. It has gone to Turin to offer congratulations to Princess MARIA VITTORIA, the future Queen of Spain.

MADRID, Dec. 8.—Ex-Queen ISABELLA has sent here a formal protest from Geneva against the election of the Duke of AOSTA, as King of Spain. She states that she has no intention of appealing to force. All the political factions in Spain are violently attacking PRIM and the party supporting the Duke of AOSTA.

THE FRANCO-PRUSSIAN WAR.

The War in France—Details of the Recent Military Operations—Paris Still Defiant—Reorganization of the Army of the Loire—German Reports.

TOURS, Dec. 7.—A dispatch from Le Mans today, says a balloon has arrived from Paris with news from that capital to the night of the 6th. No military operations of importance had occurred since the 3d. Gen. TROCHU had received a letter from Gen. VON MOLTKE, announcing the defeat of the Army of the Loire, and offering safe conduct to such parties as might be designated to verify the news. The offer was refused by the Government, who at once issued a proclamation to the people of Paris, giving information of the proposition of Gen. VON MOLTKE and their reply thereto; and saying that "even if the statement were true, they would still have the right to expect a great movement of the nation to their assistance, and will continue the combat." Advices from reliable parties show that the recent successes of the Parisians were greater than had been supposed. When the balloon started firing was heard south of Paris.

TOURS, Dec. 9.—Advices from Paris have been received by balloon to the 8th. The situation was satisfactory. The Prussians were actively at work constructing defensive works in the rear of the lines from which the French recently drove them. A large number of prisoners had arrived in Paris. They were captured in the battles at the east and south of the city on the 2d. The Prussians in their attack hurled over 120,000 men against Gen. DUCROT. In spite of these immense numbers, DUCROT held his ground and repulsed the enemy.

BELFORT.

Advices have been received from the garrison of Belfort to the 6th. The siege was progressing vigorously. The Prussians had attempted to storm the place, but were beaten off. One of their regiments was entirely cut to pieces in the attack.

THE LOIRE.

MONTARGIS, in the Department of Loiret, has been evacuated by the Germans. The Army of the Loire has again started on a forward movement. The journals announce changes in the Army of the Loire, which is divided into three Corps under the, command of Gens. BOURBAKI, CHANZEAY and BILLOT.

GERMAN WAR REPORTS.

BERLIN, Dec. 7.—A dispatch from King WILLIAM to Queen AUGUSTA confirms the report that 10,000 prisoners, 77 cannon and 4 gun-boats were captured at Orleans. The King adds: "VON TUMPLING has carried Gidy, Janvey and Prinis by storm, and MANTEUFFEL occupied Rouen after victorious encounters. GORBEN now holds the city. Eight heavy guns were found in the entrenchments."

SCHWERIN, Dec. 7.—A telegram from the Grand Duke of MECKLENBURG states that the loss of the Mecklenburg troops, in the battles from the 2d to the 4th of December, were 3,200. The enemy lost 9,000 killed and 1,600 prisoners.

THE GERMAN WAR LOAN.

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—Three million pounds sterling of the loan recently authorized by the North German Parliament, will be allotted to subscription in London.

The Prospective German Empire—Letter from King Louis of Bavaria.

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—The following letter from King LOUIS of Bavaria to King JOHN of Saxony has just been made public:

"The Germans, led by the King of Prussia, celebrate the brotherhood of arms, giving a glorious proof of the superiority and power of United Germany. I have consented to this end at Versailles, and now invite you and the other German Princes to urge the King of Prussia to assume the title of Emperor of Germany, united with the presidential functions. Proud thus to take the first step in crowning German unity, I hope for your assent and that of the other Princes and free towns."

Correspondence of the State Department with Mr. Washburne—Recognition and Congratulation of the New Republic—The Mediation of the United States for Peace—Diplomatic Communications Through Washington Forwarded.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Accompanying the President's Message to Congress was a large mass of documents from the Department of State, including correspondence of United States Ministers in Europe on the Franco-German war, from which the following points are extracted:

THE NEW GOVERNMENT.

Acting Secretary of State DAVIS, on Sept. 6, telegraphed Minister WASHBURNE, at Paris, as follows:

"If the Provisional Government has actual control and possession of power, and is acknowledged by the French people so as to be in point of fact the de facto Government, of which you will be able to decide by the time this reaches you, you will not hesitate to recognize it."

On the same day, Assistant Secretary DAVIS telegraphed:

"It appearing by your last dispatch that the new Government is fully installed, and that Paris remains in the undisputed possession of power, in your situation, in your judgment, shall justify it, and tender the congratulations of the President and people of the United States on the peaceful establishment of a Republican Government."

AMERICAN SENTIMENT.

On the 7th of September Mr. DAVIS further telegraphed:

"Inasmuch as, under instructions from Paris, whatever the public sentiment in America has changed since the change of Government in France, adding, on its part, that until now the public Press in this country has expressed strong sympathy with Germany, it will, of course, prohibit a stroke neutrality, and will continue so to do. That he cannot wonder the people have little sympathy for a dynasty which countenanced giving aid to the rebels during the struggle to establish a nationality on our southern borders. That, in my judgment, the feeling so which he alluded was not against France or the French people, of which he is as competent to judge as I; and that the disposition of this Government is shown in the order of the President, already given, to recognize the new Government."

M. FAVRE'S ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS.

Mr. WASHBURNE, under date of PARIS, Sept. 7, informed Secretary FISH as follows:

"About 5 o'clock P. M., yesterday, M. JULES FAVRE called upon me in person to thank my Government in the name of that of the national defense, as well as in his own, on behalf of the prompt recognition of the Republic, and the tender of its felicitations. He again desired that Washington the profound acknowledgments of the Government of the National Defense. I then announced the dispatch of Mr. DAVIS in relation to the recognition of the Republic, which, of course, I had just received. M. FAVRE smiled at the allusion to the attempt of the Emperor to control the election by his veto, and remarked that the calling, could be more satisfactory than Mr. DAVIS' telegram. It was all he could desire. He then said he had answered my letter of the day before, and that it would be sent to me in the course of the day or early morning, and I have the honor to send herewith a copy of it in the original French, together with a translation thereof."

MEDIATION—NEUTRALITY.

On Sept. 9 Secretary FISH telegraphed to Minister WASHBURNE:

"The request of FAVRE to instruct you to join the other Powers in efforts for peace received. It is not the policy or the interest of the United States to act directly with European Powers on European questions. I have instructed BANCROFT to ascertain whether Germany desires the good offices of the United States; but not to tender them without the assurance that they will be accepted by both belligerents. We sincerely desire to see peace restored between the two great Powers now at war, with each of whom the United States has so many traditions of friendship."

Secretary FISH, in subsequent dispatches to Washington, compliments him on his prudent and discreet conduct, which has received the approbation of the President. On the 4th October FISH wrote WASHBURNE:

"The Government does not intend to maintain a false neutrality between the two Powers now unfortunately engaged in war. It desires also to extend to both the manifestation of its friendly feeling in every possible way, and will allow to the vessels of war of both Powers equality in the hospitality of its ports and harbors for all proper and friendly purposes."

On Sept. 11, Minister BANCROFT telegraphed Secretary FISH:

"No time now for America to intervene. Germany rejects all foreign interference. Every other Power looking to peace will be welcomed, and stands ready to accomplish anything. Our interest and dignity require us for the present to stand aloof."

On the 30th of September the Secretary of State wrote Mr. BANCROFT:

"The reasons which you present against American intervention between France and Germany are satisfactory. Recent communications which have united the President in the course and policy indicated to you in the cable dispatch from this office on the 9th inst., and to which I refer all lines of communication, unless upon the joint request of both of the warring Powers. It continues to be the hope of the President, as it is the interest of the people of the country, that the conflict may soon which France and North Germany are engaged should find an early end. This Government will not trespass any opinion as to the terms or conditions upon which the sending of peace should be based between two Governments equally sharing its friendship; but it is hoped that the good cessation of war may not then be, or, indeed, the rights of belligerent nations, under such circumstances, must be regarded as paramount to any belligerent right. They ought not to be questioned or curtailed, because one will be the party less favored reason to believe there will be abused, or unless some military necessity, which, upon proper statement, must be regarded as obvious, shall require the curtailment. The condition upon which the sending of messengers was offered was humiliating, and could not be accepted by any diplomatic agent with any self-respect. The correspondence between those officers, and their determinate is always more or less confidential, and it is unreasonable to suppose that its inspection by the sending power of such nation ought to enjoy, and the need the requirement of such a condition must be regarded as tantamount to an imputation both upon the integrity of the Minister and the friendship of his Government. You will consequently remonstrate against the exercise of authority adverted to as being contrary to that paramount right of Legation which from time immemorial nations ought to enjoy, and to which all are equally interested. Prussia has heretofore been a leading champion of rights of neutrals on the ocean, and she has ever, during the existence of this war, made acknowledgments of her sacrifices to her faith and consistency in that respect. The course of her arms on land does not seem to warrant or require any departure from it on capture on the high seas by other privateers or public vessels of the other.

COMMUNICATION WITH PARIS.

On the 11th of November the Secretary sent the following to Mr. BANCROFT:

SIR: The refusal of the German authorities, at the investment of Paris, to allow the United States Minister there to send a messenger to London with a packet with dispatches from his Legation, unless the contents of the packet should be submitted, must be regarded as an arbitrarious proceeding, which cannot be acquiesced in by the Government. Blockade by land, as well as by sea, is a military right for the reduction of an enemy's fortress by preventing the access of relief from without, and by compelling the troops and inhabitants to surrender for want of supplies. When, however, the blockaded fortress begins to be the capital of a country where the diplomatic representatives of a neutral state reside, has the blockading force a right to cut him off from all intercourse by letter from the outer world and even with his own Government? No such right is either expressly recognized by public law, or is even alluded to in any treaties on the subject. The right of a Legation to communicate freely and safely, and by incident to that right the privilege of sending and receiving messages. This privilege is acknowledged in unqualified terms. There is no exception or qualification affecting that the possibility of a blockade of a capital by hostile force. Although such blockades are not of frequent occurrence, their liability to happen must have been well known to all writers on public law; and if they had supposed that the right of sending messengers was merged in or was subordinate to the belligerent rights of the assailant, they certainly would have said so. Indeed, the rights of Legations, under such circumstances, must be regarded as paramount to any belligerent right. They ought not to be questioned or curtailed, because one will be the party less favored reason to believe there will be abused, or unless some military necessity, which, upon proper statement, must be regarded as obvious, shall require the curtailment. THE HOLY ROMAN EMPIRE. By JAMES BRYCE, D.C.L. London: MACMILLAN & CO.

In the 'physical universe nothing is lost,' it is said, and the doctrine has found numerous advocates in the realm of mind. Whether it be true or not in the latter sphere, it is certainly true that the memory of events, even the most trivial, is preserved in the brain, and that, under favorable circumstances, it may be recalled. Whether the mind of man is immortal, and whether the memory of the past will be preserved in the life to come, are questions which have been asked in all ages, and which will be asked in all ages to come. Whether they can be answered in the affirmative or not, it is certain that the memory of the past is preserved in the present, and that the present is largely influenced by the past. Hence the importance of studying the past, and hence the importance of writing history. Mr. Bryce has written a history which is not only interesting, but valuable. He has not only told us what has been done, but he has told us why it was done, and what were the results of the doing. He has not only told us what men did, but he has told us why they did it, and what were the motives which led them to act as they did. He has not only told us what was the result of their actions, but he has told us what would have been the result if they had acted otherwise. He has not only told us what was the result of their actions, but he has told us what would have been the result if they had not acted at all

TWEED'S LATEST.

Another Nice Little Game And How the "Boss" Played It.

The State Printing to be Done by the New-York Printing Company—Huge Gathering of Spoils Ahead.

The New-York Printing Company is growing; but like other mushrooms it grows in the dark. It is spreading under cover of night, and creeping its roots into the Treasury by deep underground passages. Its daylight transactions are not many, but there are occasionally little occurrences in the interest of the concern that must come out in the broad light of day, despite all the efforts of the runners of the machine to keep its operations dark. Even by night a spark will occasionally fly from the engine, and expose its position and progress. Such a spark was left to the exposure of Mr. TWEED'S latest little operation in behalf of his pet institution.

It appears that the business of the Printing Company has increased at such an enormous rate, that it has been judged prudent to extend the machinery of the concern. TWEED and Connolly settled it between them that by the time they had acquired a certain rate of income for the Company, there should be an effort made to enlarge the field of usefulness of the concern. With this view an effort was made, about a year ago, to obtain the building Nos. 39 to 43 East Twenty-first street, occupied by the Trow & Smith Manufacturing Company. This establishment is one of the largest in the City, and comprises within its four walls all the appurtenances and facilities for the publication of the largest book or smallest pamphlet, having a large press-room containing presses, a complete bindery and extensive composing rooms. Tweed, discovering that the partners in this business, Trow & Smith, were at loggerheads, and not likely to come to any pleasant relations, unwisely concluded that this was an opportunity to interpose. He stepped in and made an offer. An agent—in collusion with him, it is said—had over him, and the unsuspecting Trow was deputed to negotiate with the agent. Of course the latter had no pressing need at present, and after haggling and delay—the book publishers were obliged to seek Mr. TWEED, and reopen negotiations with him. Under these circumstances, finding that his game had worked in the most satisfactory manner, of course he abandoned his first offer, and would not have let out the business on his own terms while it was ridiculously low. He then obtained from Mr. TROW, the owner of the Twenty-first street building, a lease of five years on the property. This was all fixed in people's names, and on the 1st inst. the entire establishment was transferred, by TWEED, for the business of the Printing Company, for the nominal consideration of $100,000, with other payments not accounted for in the main purchase money. This establishment is avowedly Mr. TWEED'S private property, and there is all the machinery of the Printing Ring for the ensuing year. A number of luminous checks, with City Hall diamonds and a political cut of job, are in possession of the establishment already; and the printers and pressmen show one plainly that they are TWEED'S property as it is the Boss' monogram were stamped upon their foreheads.

The following private circular is being sent out to the customers of the late firm of TROW & SMITH:

The business of the Trow & Smith Book-manufacturing Company, from and after this date, will be conducted by the New-York Printing Company. The property held by us belonging to you, will be held by them, subject to your order.

DEC. 1, 1870.

From this it would seem that the Printing Company is to have the business of the new establishment in its hands, but not its property. We have it on excellent authority from head-quarters, in fact, that this purchase and the business consequent thereupon, is a private speculation of Mr. TWEED'S, concerning which the less said the better for the public are to be concerned, in some manner, though, after all; for Mr. TWEED'S speculations, outside of the profits of the rest of the Printing Company, will consist of the interest upon a private purse!" It seems however, that the public are to be concerned

NOTES FROM THE PEOPLE.

The Exposition.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

It is certainly amusing to hear the oft-repeated charges of the country Press that the NEW-YORK TIMES had been sold to Messrs. TWEED, SWEENY & Co. If it does hold amicable relations with the Ring, the prayer of the "Boss" must be "deliver us from the hands of our friends." The bare-faced frauds; the shameless corruptions of our City Government, are deserving of the full exposure it is now receiving and will receive at the instance of honest journalism. Let any fair-minded person spend but a half hour in looking into our municipal affairs, and they must be convinced. I wonder who are the men that we see every day through the windows of our Court-house? Ensconced in offices such that our merchant princes cannot afford, clothed in the finest of cloths, they plunge their hands deep into the City Treasury. "Their eyes stick out with fatness; they have more than heart can wish." And yet these vampires, filling offices the duties of which are as purely imaginary as the most deceitful mirage, are fed and nourished from the hard-earned moneys of the people. Look at the spectacle of the Board of Common Scoundrels," (some call them the Common Council,) voting $250,000 away on useless and fraudulent claims. Look at the sight of the thousand and one jobs that our City fathers are foisting upon the people in the shape of street openings and sewers, one of which makes them hundreds of dollars richer on the spot. But it is as useless to enumerate the corruptions of our rulers as it would be to number the stars. One thing is certain, however. Until the people grow tired of systematic robbery; until they see that an Alderman cannot honestly be worth a million on a three years' salary of $1,800; until they are satisfied that the leaders of the Ring are the most corrupt specimens of the genus homo; until the people feel that our political life must be purer, there is, indeed, no chance for reform. But this reform is the mission of the Press, and a noble office it is to be the educator of a nation. Honest, true-minded men will sympathize with all those who lift the battle-axe of purity against the hydra of political immorality. With such enemies the Ring and its hirelings may well tremble, for their destruction will be speedy and sure.

The Bank Clerks' Benevolent Association.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

I was one among the many who crowded Association Hall to excess on the occasion of the second anniversary of the Bank Clerks' Association on Wednesday evening last. Had ten thousand other stockholders and bank depositors been afforded the opportunity of being present, it would have been to their advantage. The character given to the bank clerks of our City for honor and integrity, by the President of the Metropolitan Bank, JOHN E. WILLIAMS, Esq., was no more than might have been expected of his generous disposition, knowledge of human nature, and fitness for the position he occupies. The remarks of Rev. S. H. TYNG, Jr., were equally appropriate.

But I wish to confine myself more particularly to the suggestion of WM. E. DODGE, Jr., that the merchants of New-York lend a helping hand in this work. It is true, the President of the Association, Mr. J. C. PARSONS, of the Chemical Bank, stated that a merchant had proposed taking the fund in hand and raising it to $100,000, but that he felt debeate about presenting the matter to merchants and others having dealings with banks previous to the institutions manifesting their appreciation of the object and the welfare of their clerks by subscribing to the fund. But why should we wait for the banks? These gentlemen are striving to do what the Bank of England has done for years, and we have lost sight of in our haste to get rich—make some provision for the latter days of those worn out in faithful service of a peculiar, I may almost say public, character.

Now, as a means of increasing their fund, and carrying out to the full measure of success the work they have so nobly undertaken, I propose that, at the close of the present year, every one having dealings with a bank in this City and Brooklyn, as depositors, inclose to the paying teller of the institution with which he deals the sum of $1, or more if he sees fit, directed to the "Permanent Fund Bank Clerks' Benevolent Association." Drops make the ocean. I am not prepared to say how many thousand dealers with banks there are, but if the idea is carried out generally, the aggregate of such contributions would amount to a handsome sum. It would be a glorious thing for every man to think he had a direct personal interest in such a noble work of brotherly kindness. If the plan requires more elaboration to be perfectly successful, the Managers are no doubt able to put it in shape.

Let it not be said of those, who for years have handled millions of our money without allowing a dollar to stick to their fingers, that—dying poor but honest, as so many do—that at death their wives and children have to fall back upon the cold charity of the world. MERCHANT.

Repudiation and Revenue Reform.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

For some time I have been taking notes of popular fallacies and current substitutes for reasoning. "Anti-Repudiator's" communication is a capital specimen of these, and has been promoted to a conspicuous place in my note-book. Mr. ROBERT B. MINTURN is one of the younger leaders of the movement generally known (for want of a better name) as free trade, and sometimes called revenue reform. It is reported, says your correspondent, that Mr. MINTURN is a repudiator; argal, repudiation and revenue reform are equivalent.

"Anti-Repudiator" adduces no proof that Mr. MINTURN is a repudiator. He does not even assert it on his own ipse dixit. He says "it is currently reported about town." Is this testimony to hang a dog on? I have known Mr. MINTURN for years, and shall require something better than the anonymous report of a possible on dit to convince me that he is a repudiator. But suppose he is—as bad a one as O'SULLIVAN. What argument is that against revenue reform? None whatever, any more than the fact of HORACE GREELEY'S being a profane swearer is an argument against what we call protection—unless it can be shown that there is a necessary connection between revenue reform, otherwise called free trade, and repudiation.

I am aware an attempt has been made to show such a connection thus. The free traders want to abolish Custom-house duties. If there are no duties, the Government cannot raise money to pay its debts. If it cannot pay its debts it must (virtually) repudiate them. A very pretty fabric of argument! Unfortunately there is one little flaw in it. It rests on an assumption which is directly the reverse of the truth.

The free traders or revenue reformers advocate a revenue tariff. A revenue tariff (in this case the name happens to express the thing) is a tariff to raise revenue, by law duties, on large importations. A protective tariff, so far as it answers its purpose of protection by shutting out foreign goods from competition with domestic manufactures, rises shuts off the Government from revenue. When the duty is prohibitory, of course the Government gets nothing. What revenue reformers want in relation to the Customs is that where the people pay 95 the Government shall receive that sum, less the necessary expense of collection; whereas, under the present system, where the people pay 95 the Government receives 5, some favorite interest pockets 90 and the remaining 60 are wasted. I end as I began, by saying that "Anti-Repudiator's" efforts afford a beautiful example of the current substitutes for reasoning. An assumption, probably false, certainly unsupported, is made the ground of a conclusion which would be utterly vicious, even if the assumption were strictly true. And this sort of thing is called argument!

EARL BENSON.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Thursday, Dec. 8.

Proposed Uniform for Customs Officers.

A proposition has been made by the Secretary of the Treasury to the various Collectors of the Customs to adopt a regulation providing for the uniforming of the inspectors and night watchmen, and indeed all classes of Customs officers whose duties are performed in public. Collector MURPHY has given the subject his careful attention, and yesterday expressed himself to our reporter as decidedly in favor of the regulation. The uniforming of officers had, he said, been found to work well in the Post-office Department, where the carriers certainly performed their duty more satisfactorily, and he saw no reason why it should not work equally well in the Revenue Department. Customs officers wear no uniform in European countries, and he thought that they would have less difficulty in the discharge of their duty in the country if they were uniformed instead of being labeled with a badge. Mr. MURPHY was quite emphatic in his indorsement of the plan, and will recommend it strongly before the Secretary of the Treasury at his interview on Monday. A suggestion was made by our reporter that if the Customs officers were to be uniformed, it would be to their advantage if the Government should purchase the material for the clothing at wholesale, and likewise the buttons and lace, and enable each officer to procure the cloth and trimmings for his uniform at cost price. In this way uniformity of color and material could be secured, and the Government would be the gainer, while the officer would be inclined to submit to the new regulation with better grace. The Collector coincided with the suggestion, and in concluding the interview stated that it was not probable that the order, if issued, would be carried into effect immediately, but that about sixty days would intervene in order that officers might have an opportunity of making the necessary arrangements.

POLICE TRIALS.

Two Cases of Intoxication—Stealing a Pair of Gloves—Purchasing a Bottle of Gin for a Friend.

There were forty-one cases before Commissioners BOSWORTH, MANIERRE and BARR, yesterday, in the trial chamber at Police Headquarters. Three, at least, of these cases, illustrate forcibly the demoralization that has overtaken and is fast rendering worthless, this once famous and efficient body of men.

Patrolman TERENCE O'BRIEN, of the Twenty-first Precinct, entered a saloon on his post, and when found by Roundsman MCARTHUR had just completed the purchase of a bottle of gin. On the trial yesterday, he attempted to show that he went into the place to procure a key, with which to wind up his watch, and that, failing, he swore that he had purchased the gin for a friend who was returning from a ball, and for some reason declined to enter the saloon. The Commissioners were so impressed with the untruthfulness of the defense that they at once sent for Chief Clerk HAWLEY, went into executive session and dismissed the offender on the spot.

Patrolman WM. MCCUTCHEON, of the Fourteenth Precinct, took a fancy to a pair of handsome gloves worn by JOHN HOUGH, a colored coachman employed by Dr. HUNTER, and took forcible possession of them, in spite of the remonstrances of the owner. To these remonstrances MCCUTCHEON replied, "These gloves are too good for a nigger; they are only fit for a policeman," and walked away leaving the astonished MCCUTCHEON really intended to keep the gloves, Dr. HUNTER made complaint at the Spring-street Station-house. The Sergeant in command sent for MCCUTCHEON, and ordered him to return the gloves. MCCUTCHEON denied having them, but subsequently went to Mrs. HUNTER'S and left them. These facts were sworn to yesterday, and it was further shown that a friend of MCCUTCHEON had visited HOUGH and offered him $25 not to press the complaint, and when he refused this threatened to "put a head on him," if he persisted in appearing on the trial. The Commissioners swore that he took the gloves for a joke. He was at once dismissed by the Commissioners.

Patrolman JAMES BRASSEL, of the Sixth Precinct, on the 6th inst. went on post at 8 A. M., and one hour later was found to be so much under the influence of liquor that he had to be removed to the Station-house. He was dismissed as summarily as the other two. None of these patrolmen have yet been six months on the force.

Patrolman BERNARD DONNELLY, of the Twentieth Precinct, was charged with being intoxicated while on post. He admitted having drank a glass of gin with a friend, and thought it might have been liquor in it, but did not know it at the time. It was shown that DONNELLY had been nineteen years a policeman, and had only been fined six days in that long interval. His case was referred to the full Board.

The other cases presented no public interest, the delinquents being fined from one to three days' pay.

Mutiny on Shipboard in the Harbor.

At 10½ o'clock A. M. yesterday the Harbor Police learned that a mutiny had occurred on the ship Shetucas, Capt. SOULE, lying off Hoffloe's Island. Sergt. O'BRIEN and a force of men were sent with the police-boat Seneca, and boarded the vessel. It was ascertained that on Tuesday evening the crew had mutinied and attacked the mate, JOHN WRIGHT. One of the sailors, named JOHN SMITH, had attempted to stab the mate with a sheath knife, and the mate, in defending himself, had inflicted three severe wounds on the head of SMITH with a cutlass. The mate's injuries are slight. SMITH, and two others, PETER JOHNSON, CHARLES THOMPSON and CHARLES PETERSON, were arrested. The wounded man was sent to the hospital. Later in the day the prisoners were taken before United States Commissioner OSBORN and committed to await examination.

Surrender of Some Rebels.

Señor DOMINGO RUIZ, the Cuban Ambassador, indicted for an alleged violation of the Neutrality laws, surrendered himself at the United States Circuit Court, yesterday. He was released after giving bail before Commissioner SHIELDS, in the sum of $10,000. His sureties were JOSEPH L. SMITH, of No. 1 Pine-st., and WM. H. WEST, of No. 2 West Thirty-fourth-street, and ANDREW J. GROSE, of No. 21 Packer-street.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

The attendance at the Exchange yesterday (Dec. 9,) was not a large one, owing to the fact that but little business, it was expected, would be transacted. That was the case, although two sales were effected, one of which embraced very valuable property, as follows: Two full-sized lots, one on the north side of Fifty-seventh-street, and the other on the south side of Fifty-eighth-street, adjoining in the rear, each 25x100.5, sold together for $40,000, the purchaser being Mr. DAVID ROBBINS. The price is not thought to be cheap. The sale was a legal one, by order of the Supreme Court in foreclosure, and was made by ROBERTS & MCGUIRE, under the direction of GRANT NATHAN, Esq., referee. The other sale of the day was effected by W. E. STEVENSON and C. COLLINS FITZROLLER, auctioneers, and consisted of a sixteen-story lease of a frame house and lot, located on the east side of Fifth-avenue, between One Hundred and Ninth and One Hundred and Tenth streets. The house rents for $100 per annum. The lease was disposed of for $2,625. No other business was transacted, although discussion was indulged in in regard to the result of the sale of Fifth-avenue lots between Seventy-eighth and Seventy-ninth streets, attempted on Thursday, and it seemed to be the general impression that the "positive" sale had been advertised in too "positive" a manner.

After the auction sale of the property at Flatbush, L. I., on Thursday, under the direction of DINGEE, KETCHUM & CO., had terminated, the same auctioneers disposed of twelve lots of land at public auction, located in the immediate vicinity of the other lots offered. Four of these, situated on the north side of Clinton-street and Vernon-avenue, were sold at $235 each, and eight in the rear of the above, on the north side of Vernon-avenue, at prices ranging from $160 to $170 each. The twelve lots brought, in the aggregate, $2,310.

In regard to private transactions, V. K. STEVENSON & SON report the sale of two full-sized City lots on the north side of Forty-eighth-street, 150 feet east of Fifth-avenue, for $60,000. The property was sold by Mrs. HENRY KERR to Mr. WALLACE, of the St. Nicholas Hotel.

The Real Estate Gazette for December, issued by DINGEE, KETCHUM & CO., No. 52 Cedar-street, the Suburbans for the same month, published by BLACKWELL & MARKS, Nos. 55 and 57 Liberty-street, have been received. Both papers contain a variety of interesting information in reference to City and country property now offered for sale.

WE OFFER FOR SALE
Evansville, Henderson and
Nashville Railroad
FIRST MORTGAGE 7 PER CENT. BONDS, due in 1907, interest payable on the first days of January and July, at the BANK OF AMERICA, New-York.

The line of this road extends from HENDERSON, on the OHIO RIVER, to the State line of TENNESSEE, passing through the rich counties of Western Kentucky, and forming important connections with CHICAGO, NASHVILLE, the SOUTH and EAST.

Seventy-nine miles are completed, at a cost of $2,000,000, raised almost entirely from stock subscriptions, leaving only twenty miles to be built, which section is nearly ready for the iron, and will be completed and opened by January next.

The net earnings are now quite large, and there is no reasonable doubt that the extensive local trade and prospective connections of the road will make it abundantly remunerative to the stockholders.

The first and only mortgage on all the property and franchises of the Company is for ONE MILLION DOLLARS, payable any per mile, principally as follows.

More than $300,000 of the bonds have been already negotiated, and the remainder will be sold for the present at par and accrued interest. As much more may constitute a very desirable investment.

Further information will be furnished on application to us.

FOR

SEVENTY-FIRST REGIMENT ARMORY,
Junction of Broadway, 66th-st. and 8th-av.
NEW-YORK, Dec. 1, 1870.
FELLOW-CITIZENS: Your sympathies have of late been appealed to on behalf of the orphans of the war now raising between Germany and France, and you have liberally responded to the call made upon you. So did the army already made widows and orphans by that strife. The appeal made to you and the response you gave to it, was a vindication that in this country it is right to be a duty to recognize the claims of suffering humanity wherever they may arise. But the appeal we now make to you is one that comes home and involves a higher duty—for in that patriotism not for His own household is worse than an infidel.
It is for the support of the orphans of the men who died for the maintenance of the Union, who, at the call of their country, went forth in its defense, and sacrificed their lives for the preservation of our free institutions. Their children are a sacred legacy. Let it not be forgotten that the country was lavish of promise to all who would go forth in that hour of peril—when a rebel army invaded Pennsylvania, and the fate of the national capital, and of the great Metropolis, trembled upon the chances of a battle.
As Americans, we owe it to them dead patriots that their children, now fatherless, and a large number of them motherless, should be fed, clothed and educated; that

POLITICAL.

THE TAMMANY REPUBLICANS.

Primary Elections Last Evening—Names of the Officers and Delegates Elected.

The Tammany Hall branch of the Republican Party went through the farce of holding primary elections last evening to choose delegates to a General Committee for the ensuing year. The vote polled was small; that portion of it polled by Republicans was infinitesimally small. It is doubtful, in fact, whether a thousand Republicans in the entire City, who do not affiliate with Tammany, went near the polls. The few who did go out of curiosity were unable to recognize the men who did the balk of the voting as belonging to the Republican Party in their respective districts. It was patent to every one that nine-tenths of the voters were supplied by Tammany Hall, and had been washed and scrubbed up and furnished with clean shirts, so as to make them appear as near like Republicans as possible. In order to give the thing a plausible look, the names of a few genuine Republicans were in several districts placed upon the ticket. This was done without any authority whatever—the men whose names were thus used having openly and publicly repudiated the primaries advertised to be held last evening, and all connected with the farce. Of course these men will not serve in the General Committee chosen last night, and it was well known they would not. Their places will be supplied by the tools of Tammany, under the authority expressly stated on the ballots, that the delegation shall have power to fill vacancies. In the Eleventh District the ticket was headed with the name of HORACE GREELEY, who is not a resident of the district, and, of course, has no notion of serving. In the Seventeenth District Mr. JOHN R. RUSSELL was put upon the ticket, although he was among the first who left the old Tammany General Committee, and was the most conspicuous anti-Tammany Republican in the district. These cunningly-devised tricks failed, except in a few instances, to deceive Republicans or bring votes to the ticket; but they exhibited very clearly the weakness of the faction that found it necessary to resort to them. As a matter of course, "Hank" SMITH and "Hon" MANIERRE are among the delegates elect to the new General Committee. This disposes of a couple of honest cusses of the membership of the Committee. The following is a list of the delegates elected:

First Assembly District.—Henry Smith, President; Andrew W. Mason, Wm. Buckley, Vice-Presidents; Alfred S. Peabody, Recording Secretary; John Kehoe, Carty, Corresponding Secretary; Joseph D. Costa, Treasurer; Delegates—Andrew W. Leggat, Amos Stookey, Henry Smith, James Lee, Samuel N. La Domie.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Gov. WALKER'S message is much praised by the Conservative newspapers of Virginia.

A Western paper calls Indiana's Divorce laws relics of Democratic barbarism.

Congressman WILLIAM A. WHEELER, of the Seventeenth District of this State is detained at home by the illness of his wife.

The official vote for Congressman in the First District of Tennessee, is as follows: Roderick R. Butler, Republican, 6,444; James White, Democrat, 5,979; N. G. Taylor, Independent, 1,423; Butler's plurality, 305. Col. White will contest the seat, on the ground of fraud.

The proposition to abolish the office of Admiral in our navy is approved by the Worcester (Mass.) Spy, which asks that the honor be permitted to remain associated with the memory of Admiral FARRAGUT, until there shall be another special case to demand its revival.

A "Southern School History of the United States," which abounds in misrepresentations of the North, has been indorsed by a majority of the School Board of Louisville, Ky., and a very lively commotion has resulted among the Union citizens, who object to its being introduced into the schools as a text-book.

A Democratic paper in Tennessee makes the following remark, in which there is more truth than some persons expect to find in papers of that class: "It is an unfortunate condition of affairs for the National Democracy that there exists at this time in the Southern States a class of self-opinionated and narrow-minded politicians, who have not an idea or thought outside of the sphere of their own individual advancement and ambition, and who, to gratify the latter, either blindly, or, if not blindly, in this juncture, evidently, press themselves forward as political leaders in the Democratic Party."

In connection with the fishery troubles, the Utica Herald expresses the fear that Canada has fallen into the hands of commissioners and small politicians, but it thinks that they will in the end be taught the lesson of good manners, and will realize that they can gain nothing by arrogance in small things, or by a too liberal interpretation of treaties.

A special dispatch from St. Louis says the evidences of political bitterness engendered during the late campaign in Missouri, is fast wearing away. A kindly feeling is springing up between both wings of the Republican Party, bringing them more compact than ever into the struggle of 1872. GRATZ BROWN is no longer maligned by his opponents or charged with going over to the Democrats. The Democrats are disappointed in this, and begin to recognize that the little advantage they gained at the last election is short-lived, and that when the next contest comes they will sink out of sight again.

The Hartford Courant says that GOV. ENGLISH, of Connecticut, is sure to be renominated by the Democrats, and that it is boldly announced that he wants to be. And the Courant, after alluding to the other offices, says: "Whatever the character of the State ticket, it will receive the indorsement and aid of the corrupt politicians of New-York. Mr. TWEED desires to extend his dominions over the line, and will be encouraged by his brethren Democrats in Connecticut in proportionate ratio to his liberality in supplying the sinews of war for their prosecution of the campaign. But it is singular that the leading Democrats in the State should be willing to be duped by Tammany,—or, if not themselves duped, allow Gov. ENGLISH to be deceived. Gov. ENGLISH, it is known, has Presidential aspirations. Possibly the delegation from this State to the Democratic National Convention, headed by Mr. EATON, (who, though not an out-and-out Tammany man, is always for the party,) might be prevailed upon to give him their support; but Tammany meantime would laugh at his ambition, and go in a body for HOFFMAN."

The call for the Connecticut Democratic State Convention, to be held at Hartford, on Tuesday, Jan. 11, says:

"Nearly six years after the close of a sectional war, the President announces in his Message to Congress, that three States of the Union have been admitted to representation in Congress, and he confidently expects that another—one of the Old Thirteen—will take her place there next year. With this official announcement of the dismemberment of a Union which it had failed to break, comes the appeal, by a leader of the Republican Party in Congress, for the inauguration of war against a powerful European State, to save the Republican Party. The policy of the Democratic Party in retrench expenditures, reduced taxes, reform abuses which reach over 30,000 offices, to pay the public debt, to relieve great interests which are crippled by unnecessary burdens, to restore the Union, sustain the honor of the country, and promote the prosperity of every section; but on no account to bring calamity upon the people for the preservation of any political party, who agree with us in these sentiments, and who are opposed to disunion and military supremacy, are cordially invited to act in our organizations, and to aid us in restoring union and harmony, which are essential to the prosperity of the country."
